Flag Incorrect Answer

(0) The uncontrolled airport where I was flying jumpers has a lot of student traffic. We typically make a call over the CTAF 5 minutes prior to jumping requesting that pilots not overfly midfield. While setting up for the jump run, I heard a student pilot saying he was overflying midfield to enter the pattern and also saw him on ADS-B. I elected to abort the jump run and circled until the area was clear before allowing the jumpers to exit the aircraft. The student had not been monitoring the CTAF and we had a very quick discussion of how he could get an idea of what was going on at his destination by switching to the CTAF 10 miles out and announcing his arrival in the area.
